The Ayurvedic Institute supplies USDA certified organic products, whenever possible, and ensures that all our products are of the highest quality commercially available.

As much as possible, we deal with suppliers who support sustainable harvesting of plant products and do not carry plants that are known to be endangered. Because of this, there may be times when we are out of stock on some herbs.

The Ayurvedic Institute is a member of the American Herbal Products Association (AHPA), a national trade association that focuses on herbs and herbal products.

It is an ancient art of healing that has been practiced continuously throughout India for over 5,000 years. Ayurveda is probably the oldest authentically recorded healing science in existence today, incorporating many philosophical systems and the integration of body, mind, and consciousness. Ayurveda seeks to understand and correct imbalances and to restore the innate intelligence and harmony of the person. It gives us the insight to understand individual constitution and to create balance within and around us.

According to Ayurveda each person is unique, a combination of physical, mental and emotional characteristics which is his or her constitution. Many factors, both internal and external, can affect this constitution. Examples of some of these stresses are: one's emotional state, diet and daily food choices, seasons and weather, physical trauma, job and family relationships. Once we understand that these factors can cause an imbalance in our constitutions, we have a choice to take appropriate actions to nullify or minimize their effects, or eliminate the cause. Balance is the natural order; imbalance is disorder. Health is order; disease is disorder. Within the body there is a constant interaction between order and disorder. Once one understands the nature and structure of disorder, one can re-establish order.

Ayurveda identifies three basic types of energy or functional principles which are present in everybody and everything. There are no single words in English to describe these types of energy, so we use the Sanskrit words vata, pitta, and kapha. Energy is required to create movement of fluids and nutrients to the cells of the body, enabling it to function. There is also energy needed to metabolize the nutrients in the cells, and energy is needed to lubricate and maintain cellular structure. Vata is the energy of movement, pitta the energy of digestion and metabolism, and kapha the energy of lubrication and structure. All people have vata, pitta, and kapha but one is usually primary, one secondary, and the third least prominent. Disease in Ayurveda is viewed as the lack of proper cellular function because of an excess or deficiency of vata, pitta or kapha and/or the presence of toxins. In Ayurveda body, mind, and consciousness work together in maintaining balance. They are simply viewed as different facets of one's being.
To learn how to balance body, mind, and consciousness requires an understanding of how vata, pitta, and kapha work together. In the physical body, Vata, composed of Space and Air, is the subtle energy associated with movement. It governs breathing, blinking, muscle and tissue movement, pulsation of the heart, and all movements in the cytoplasm and cell membranes. In balance, vata promotes creativity and flexibility. Out of balance, vata produces fear and anxiety.

Pitta, made up of Fire and Water, is represented by the body's metabolic system. It governs digestion, absorption, assimilation, nutrition, metabolism, and body temperature. In balance, pitta promotes understanding and intelligence. Out of balance, pitta arouses anger, hate, and jealousy.

Kapha is formed from Earth and Water and is the energy that forms the body’s structure – bones, muscles, tendons – and provides the “glue” that holds the cells together. Kapha supplies the water for all bodily parts and systems. It lubricates joints, moisturizes the skin, and maintains immunity. In balance, kapha is expressed as love, calmness and forgiveness. Out of balance, it leads to attachment, greed, and envy.

Life challenges us with many opportunities. Although there is much over which we have little control, we do have the power to decide about our diet and lifestyle. To maintain balance and health, it is important to pay attention to these decisions. Diet and lifestyle appropriate to individual constitution strengthen the body, mind, and consciousness.
Did you know that Vasant Lad, MASc, has a complete line of Ayurvedic healing products? They are formulated personally by him, following ancient Ayurvedic guidelines. These handcrafted products restore health and balance. Traditional uses are listed with each product.

Attars

1 dram vials

Hina Oil $11.00
A warming, relaxing scent known for sharpening psychic abilities and bringing clarity of mind. Nourishes heart energy and devotion. In small amounts, balancing to all three doshas.

Jasmine Oil $15.50
Sweet, cooling and moisturizing, jasmine nourishes the tissues, strengthens nervous system, and acts as an emmenagogue and aphrodisiac. Has antibacterial and antidepressant qualities. Tridoshic, increases kapha long term.

Khus Oil Vetiver $11.50
Calm the solar plexus and purifies the mind, blood and skin. It improves concentration and is a woman’s hormone balancer. It is grounding, strengthening, tonic and regenerating. With antiseptic qualities, it is a relaxant and aphrodisiac. Cooling, khus soothes vata and pitta; elevates kapha.

Neroli $19.00
Benefits the lungs and heart, acting as a sedative and tonic for the nervous system. Helps with anxiety and depression resulting from stress. Rejuvenating on the skin, it is also considered a female reproductive tonic.

Rose Oil $38.50
Promotes love and ojas. Cooling and astringent, rose acts as a nervine, cell regenerator and antidepressant. Very fragrant and tridoshic.

Essential Oils

1 dram vials unless noted

Eucalyptus $10.00
A pungent and cooling oil, it is externally cooling and heating internally. Acts as a decongestant and is diaphoretic and a bronchodilator.

Jatamansi Oil $15.00
Soothing, cooling and clearing to the nervous system, a sedative, expectorant and demulcent. Tridoshic, but will elevate vata and kapha long term.

Lavender $9.00
Sweet, astringent, and cooling, lavender benefits the lungs and mind. It helps to calm the mind and is uplifting.

Patchouli $11.75
With sweet, astringent, and cooling properties, this oil can be a mild aphrodisiac and memory stimulant while being grounding. It is antidepressant, antibacterial and calming to the brain, heart, and mind.

Sandalwood Oil $39.00
Improves concentration and meditation; is cooling, antibacterial, and diuretic. Properties include being a nervine, sedative, antispasmodic and tissue regenerative. Promotes ojas. Benefits vata and pitta and is neutral for kapha.

Here, for the first time, is an introduction to Ayurveda, herbal energetics, and a detailed explanation and classification of over 250 Western, Chinese and Ayurvedic herbs according to Ayurveda principles. Eminently practical, with many diagrams.
BY DR. ROBERT E. SVOBODA

Aghora: At the Left Hand of God 324 pp. $18.95
Robert E. Svoboda
“...My teacher, Vimalananda, spent many years perfecting his knowledge of Tantra and its advanced discipline, Aghora. He distilled his experiences and presented me with the essence.” So begins Dr. Svoboda’s fascinating story about the ancient ascetic road to enlightenment.

Aghora II: Kundalini 318 pp. $18.95
Robert E. Svoboda
“Everyone interested in Tantra should read both Aghora books. ...There are surprising revelations here, told clearly and without obscurity—wonderful insights on nature, the Goddess, the play of Maya and the Path of Liberation.” –Nik Douglas

Aghora III: The Law of Karma 322 pp. $18.95
Robert E. Svoboda
The Aghori Vimalananda uses the backdrop of the Bombay racetrack as a metaphor for the ultimate game of life. Hidden within the form of every moment that culminates in “chance” are the infinite tracks of destiny; the profound, underlying philosophical truths they reveal.

Dr. Robert E. Svoboda
An exploration of the physical, emotional and mental realities that are unique to women, in three sections that correspond to the three ages of life: childhood, adulthood and old age. Each section introduces those aspects of Ayurveda most relevant to that age and covers the landmark changes in detail.

Ayurveda: Life, Health and Longevity 258 pp. $15.00
